Dear Darren,

I am writing to express my thanks to you for your presentation of the "Shape Your Destiny" seminar on Thursday 17th March. As per your request for feedback I hope the following is useful for you.

After the seminar I spoke to a number of students whose reactions were varied. For many of the students in year 12 who had seen your presentations before the impact was not as great as it was for the students who were new to the experience. The feedback from those students was very positive.

Throughout the seminar I was pleased to see the way in which the students responded to the different activities you had for them and the manner in which you had the kids active and involved.

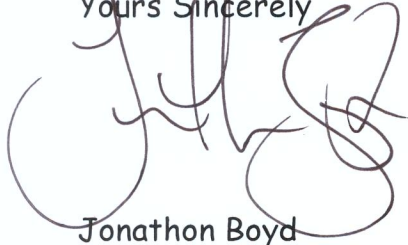

Much of this involvement was due to your presentation skills, which especially when coupled with music are very professional. Music can be very emotive when used appropriately, and I thought the choice of music was excellent and targeted the students very well.

In terms of lasting affect, as with all guest speakers and seminars, true impact is made through consistent and regular follow up and very little can be achieved through just one session. Follow up sessions are something the school is considering. However as you would understand budgetary constraints could possibly limit what we can do in the future.

Due to the fact the session covered years 10-12 any future sessions may need to be tailored to different themes to avoid repetition for students.

Once again thank you, it was defiantly session of benefit for our students.

Yours Sincerely
